

REFLECTIONS ON LEARNINGS

Name:

The Educator Certification Council has attempted to make the Certification process an educational one -- that you might not only be tested on your knowledge and abilities but also that you would receive feedback from a variety of sources. In light of the process through which you have progressed, including meetings with the members of your Reference Group, please comment on insights you have gained about your own competencies and growth and directions for the future.