

Sing to our God a Song of Cheer

Hymn: Access Sunday

Sing to our God a song of cheer in thanks that all may enter here.

Our doors swing wide to welcome all who come responding to Christ's call.

So come by foot or cane or chair and join with us in song and prayer,

For though we sit or stand in place our spirits soar and dance with grace.

Though eyes be dim or cannot see, we welcome what you know that we,

Confused or dazzled by the light, may learn from you through your insight.

Although some hear each song or word, distraction may leave meaning blurred.

Yet hands can speak to eyes that hear and gentleness makes welcome clear.

Christ welcomes all and so do we, whate'er our limitation be.

Our God in Christ makes all things new, for God is love unending too.

#66 ©1986 in A SINGING FAITH
The tune, Truro, as in "Lift Up Your Heads Ye Might Gates" and "Live Into Hope of Captives Freed"

"Words © 1986 by Jane Parker Huber, Used by Permission"